Experience an exciting Tide Pool Field Trip at Sunset Cliffs in San Diego with CASE Past President Peter A'Hearn! Discover coastal geology, marine life, and the tides while learning how to inspire your students about the wonders of nature. We'll also share best practices for Outdoor Science.

After the adventure, enjoy drinks and snacks as we unwind and reflect on the day!

Please note that participants should be comfortable with climbing down steep boulders, navigating wet and slippery surfaces, and ascending a short rope. Be sure to bring water shoes, clothes that can get wet, and a flashlight or headlamp for the caves. Feel free to bring the whole family along for this memorable outdoor experience!
